This autumn, Take 5

Borrow five books from a Council-run library before Christmas and you could win a £100 Sheffield Gift Card to spend in the new year!

As the nights draw in and the days get colder, we’re inviting you to Take 5, grab some ‘me time’ and snuggle up with a book.

Simply pick up a Take 5 card from your local participating library and record five library books that you’ve borrowed between mid-September and Christmas. Two books should be fiction, two books should be non-fiction and one from a ‘wildcard’ display.

Once you have returned the books and your completed Take 5 card, you will be placed into a prize draw to win a £100 Sheffield Gift Card, kindly donated by Sheffield BID.

Take 5 is open to all Sheffield Library members, with one Sheffield Gift Card reserved for adult participants and one for members under 18 years.

Discover more...

There’s always something amazing going on in your library, and so many ways to learn, socialise or just relax.

From poetry to sword fighting, football to board games, there’s no shortage of ways to discover more...

Unless otherwise stated, all events are FREE but due to high demand should be booked in advance.

Work Like A Woman – an evening with Mary Portas
Live Screening from the British Library
Launching her new book – Work Like a Woman: a Manifesto for Change – Mary discusses her incredible career and the realisation that true success comes not through playing the business game – where the rules are set by men, for men – but through embracing the values that really matter. Based on what she has learned through her own experience and incredible career, Work Like a Woman explores how Mary and her team rebuilt their business based on collaboration, empathy, instinct and trust.

Saturday 17th November
Central Children’s Library
12noon – 3pm
Launch of the NEW Children’s Multilingual Collection and Reading Scheme
Over 150 different languages are spoken in Sheffield, and Sheffield’s new multilingual children’s section is here to acknowledge this diversity, and help Sheffield’s families to access books for children in many of Sheffield’s languages.

Join us for the official launch, attended by the Rt Hon. the Lord Blunkett and Lord Mayor of Sheffield, Magid Magid, with performances of Sheffield’s Heritage Language schools. Get your reading passport for the new Multilingual Reading Scheme, and borrow books to collect stamps between the launch day and 21st February for a reward at the award ceremony on 3rd March.

Visit www.sheffield.gov.uk/elibrary for more information.
Libraries Week takes place between the 8–13 October to celebrate the nation’s much-loved libraries. In Sheffield as in libraries across the country, we’ll be delivering events that showcase how libraries bring communities together, provide a space for reading and creativity, inspire learning, support people with their mental health and make culture available to everyone, not just those that can afford to pay for it.

Events will be ‘popping up’ all week across Council run libraries, but here is a taster to whet your appetite…

Central Library Carpenter Room
11.30pm – 12.30pm

Kinder Scout: The People’s Mountain
Marked by the passage of millions of feet and centuries of farming, a graveyard for lost souls and doomed aircraft, this much-loved mountain is a sacred canvas on which mankind has scratched and scraped its likeness for millennia. It is a record of our social and political history, of conflict and community. Celebrated author and adventure photographer John Beatty shares this story in a stunning illustrated talk based on the book Kinder Scout - The People’s Mountain. Signed copies will be available to buy at the event.

Monday 8 October
Central Library Carpenter Room
6.30pm – 8pm

Be More Pirate: Or How to Take on the World and Win
There’s more to Pirates than peg-legs and rum. Pirates broke the rules but rewrote them to shape the society they wanted to live in. They challenged the status-quo and were pioneers of some of the most radical innovations of the last 200 years. Sam Conniff Allende talks Pirate strategies and how we can be more pirate in order to create change that we want to see, whether personally or professionally.

Tuesday 9 October
Crystal Peaks Library
10.30am – 11.30am

Autumn Gardening Masterclass

Refreshments included
£25 book token for the winning team + runners up prizes
Up to five players per team

Wednesday 10 October
Manor Library
10.30am – 12noon

Sheffield: The Home of Football?
In this illustrated talk, passionate football historian and author Martin Westby transports us back in time into Sheffield’s early footballing scene. Between 1857-1889, Sheffield led the world of association football. Martin highlights the many football firsts that took place in the city, including the establishment of the first professional club, the oldest derby and the first knock-out cup. He also shines a light on Sheffield’s crucial role in the formulation of today’s world wide rules and regulations.

This autumn, as the nation marks the 100th anniversary of the First World War armistice, we’re considering how Sheffield and the surrounding area has been shaped by conflict through the ages. From early Anglo-Saxons to the defense of Sheffield Castle, from Waterloo to rebuilding after the Sheffield Blitz; we’ll be revealing fascinating stories from our city’s rich and complex history.

As well as the events listed below, also drop into the Central Library Reading Room to see objects, photographs and documents from our collections not usually available to view.

All events are FREE but unless otherwise stated, should be booked in advance.

Supplies. In this fascinating and amusing talk, historical clothes expert Janet Stain talks about life and fashion in the 1940s when ‘Make do and Mend’ became the motto of the masses.

Tuesday 23 October
Central Library Carpenter Room
2pm – 3pm

Sheffield’s Forgotten Blitz – September 1916
On the 25th September 1916, Zeppelin raids brought the frontline to Sheffield. Graham Sykes explains what Zeppelins were and how they were used as a weapon during the First World War. Graham also takes a look at life in Sheffield, the victims, the destruction and the aftermath. This event will be repeated at Chapeltown Library on Thursday 8th November, 2pm – 3pm.

Monday 29 October
Central Library Carpenter Room
10.30am – 11.30am

Sheffield’s Waterloo
On the 18th June, 1815, the fierce and bloody Battle of Waterloo resulted in Napoleon’s final defeat and an end to 23 years of recurrent warfare between France, Britain and various European powers. In this illustrated talk, local historian Stephen Johnson tells the story of Sheffield’s Waterloo veterans and their lives beyond the famous battle.

Tuesday 30 October
Central Library Carpenter Room
10am and 12noon

Sheffield and the Anglo Saxons – A Family Craft Event
Inspired by Sheffield’s important but largely forgotten Anglo-Saxon history, join Ignite imaginations for a fun and free creative workshop aimed at families. Places are limited so please book in advance.

Wednesday 31 October
Central Children’s Library
2pm – 4pm

Where the Poppies Now Grow
Join Author Hilary Robinson to discover less known fascinating facts about World War 1 such as how fast flying pigeons dodged bullets and enemy hawks to deliver lifesaving messages and how cats, camels, elephants and... even glow worms played their part in the war effort and why Winnie The Pooh is so closely associated with the Battle of The Somme. An event for families.

Thursday 1 November
Central Library Carpenter Room
1pm – 2pm
Travellers in the Third Reich: The Rise of Fascism Through the Eyes of Everyday People
Bestselling author Julia Boyd explores the rise of the Nazis through first-hand accounts, drawing together a multitude of voices and stories, including schoolchildren, scholars, athletes, artists and tourists. Their experiences paint a rich picture of the events and atmosphere in Germany that eventually led the world to war.

Thursday 15 November
Central Library Carpenter Room
7pm – 8pm
The Sheffield Blitz of WW2 – December 1940
In December 1940, Hitler’s bombs rained down on Sheffield, killing hundreds and making thousands more homeless. In this illustrated talk, Suzanne Bingham explains why Sheffield was bombed in the first place, what happened during the two nights of the Sheffield Blitz, how the city picked up the pieces, and looks at some of the long term consequences for Sheffield.

Thursday 22 November
Central Library Carpenter Room
7pm – 8pm
The Battlefields of the Western Front
Sheffield sent many young men to fight during the First World War, including the ‘Sheffield Pals’, lost in 1916 at the Battle of the Somme. Military Historian and Battlefield Guide Paul Reed will speak about the battlefields of the First World War: their history, their changing meaning and how they are the last witness of the Great War. Paul is the author of seven books on WW1 and has worked extensively on the production of various television documentaries for the BBC, Channel 4, and Channel 5.

Saturday 24 November
Central Library Carpenter Room
11am – 12noon
Medieval European Sword Fighting – A talk and demonstration
Relatively few original manuscripts remain detailing the sword fighting techniques of medieval Europe. In this lively presentation, Luke Ireland discusses the wider context of medieval swordsmanship with a particular focus on the 600 year old illustrated work of Master Fiore dei Liberi.
The talk is brought to life through demonstrations by skilled members of the Exiles Historical European Martial Arts group. An event for all ages.

Saturday 24th November
Central Library Carpenter Room
1.30pm – 2pm and 2.30pm – 3pm
Give it a Go - Fighting with Medieval Daggers
Based on historical works, the Sheffield Exiles Historical European Martial Arts group will give an introduction to dagger fighting techniques. This is a physical session for people aged 18 years and over. Suitable clothing must be worn. Places are limited and must be booked in advance.

Monday 26 November
Central Library Carpenter Room
7pm – 8pm
Insecurity, Innocence and Intransigence: King Charles 1st and the Path to Civil War
The English Civil War led to major changes in the way England was governed, but it also resulted in the deaths of thousands, and in Sheffield, the destruction of the once mighty castle. In this talk, Dr Sasha Garwood takes a look at King Charles I, the man and monarch and offers a fascinating insight into the circumstances that led the nation to war.

Wednesday 28 November
Central Library Carpenter Room
1.30pm – 2.30pm
First World War Treasures from Sheffield Archives
An illustrated talk on the key First World War sources available at Sheffield Archives and Local Studies Library with a display of original documents, including moving first-hand testimonies in the form of letters and diaries written from the trenches by those serving on the front-line.

Thursday 29 November
Central Library Carpenter Room
7pm – 8pm
Excavating Sheffield Castle - 1920s to the Present
Major archaeological discoveries were made on the site of Sheffield Castle during the first half of the 20th century. However, the material from those excavations was never professionally studied or published. The Department of Archaeology at Sheffield University has just completed such a study - timed to coincide with Wessex Archaeology’s major new excavations on the site. In this lecture, John Moreland (University of Sheffield) will illustrate what we have learned about medieval Sheffield, and about the characters involved in uncovering this history in the 1920s and 1950s excavations, while Andrew Norton (Wessex Archaeology) will present the results of the recently completed excavations.

Saturday 1 December
Central Library Reading Room
1pm – 3pm
War, Peace and Poetry
Calling all poetry lovers. Bring a poem you'd like to share with others on the theme of conflict or why not pick from our lucky dip and read aloud. Reading aloud is a great way to build confidence and rediscover and interpret poems usually tied to the page. If you don’t want to read, don’t worry, just sit back and enjoy. Bring your ration book and you might get a cup of chicory and a slice of bread and drippings.

Tuesday 4 December
Central Library Carpenter Room
10.30am – 11.30am
Sheffield 1860-1914: Armaments Centre of the World
The role Sheffield played in munitions production during the Great War is somewhat legendary, with the great factories of the city’s east end turning out shells by the million, yet Sheffield’s role as a global centre of armaments production in the Victorian and Edwardian period is sometimes forgotten. In this talk, Dr Chris Corker examines some of the great names in the history of Sheffield steel - John Brown, Thomas Firth, Charles Cammell, Vickers and Hadfields - and charts the role of these companies in making Sheffield the most famous producer of armaments in the world.
This autumn Stocksbridge Library turns 50 years old.

To celebrate we’ve pulled together a series of special events with a local flavour.

From local history to local food, events will be ‘popping up’ throughout the season.
Visit the library to discover more. In the meantime, here’s a taster of what’s to come;

Thursday 27 September
2pm – 3pm
Beehive Hand Querns of Yorkshire
Yorkshire Archaeological Society board member John Cruse will talk about his current research, looking for regional patterns in the ‘Beehive’ hand querns in the North of England and trying to tease out what that may tell us about local social groupings.
Funded by Bolsterstone Archaeology and History Group.

Despite his support for the First World War, Arthur Conan Doyle, the creator of Sherlock Holmes was deeply concerned about the heavy losses suffered by British troops.
Using his influence as well known public figure, he led a campaign to persuade the Government to take action such as the issuing of body armour; prototypes of which were developed in Sheffield. In this illustrated talk, Phillip Abbot from the Royal Armouries tell the story with a particular focus on local connections.

Friday 5 October
10.30am – 11.30am
Flowing through Time, a history of the River Don
Rising on the moors to the northwest of Sheffield and flowing for 70 miles before merging with the waters of the Ouse at Goole, this is the river that has shaped Sheffield’s history but has in turn been moulded and transformed by the demands placed upon it. Following the course of the Don, this illustrated talk by Mike Spick highlights sights and places that have survived these many changes and those which are now just memories.

Thursday 11 October
2pm – 3pm
Exploring the Penistone Line
Ever popular speaker Stephen Gay returns to Stocksbridge to talk about the Penistone Line. Opened in 1850, the line passes through town and city, heavy industry and stunning countryside. Its history and route tells a much bigger story about the area at large.

Monday 10 December
10.30am – 11.30am
Sheffield, Conan Doyle and the Campaign to Save the Lives of British Tommies

Wednesday 12 December
Central Library Carpenter Room
1.30pm – 2.30pm
Christmas in the Trenches
An insight into how some Sheffield soldiers spent Christmas serving on the front-line during the First World War years, with an illustrated talk and display of original letters and diaries of individual service-men held at Sheffield Archives.

<td>Known to the nation as Mary, Queen of Shops from her award-winning BBC series, Mary Portas has made an indelible mark on British retail. At this exclusive event to mark the launch of her new book – Work Like a Woman: a Manifesto for Change – Mary discusses her incredible career and the realisation that true success comes not through playing the business game – where the rules are set by men, for men – but through embracing the values that really matter. Based on what she has learned through her own experience and incredible career, Work Like a Woman explores how Mary and her team rebuilt their business based on collaboration, empathy, instinct and trust. Values not always associated with leadership or winning, but values that have transformed her approach to work and allowed her to embrace her true identity. Join us for this event and learn how you can change the way you work to create an unstoppable force for change. It’s time to #WorkLikeAWoman.</td>

Stories can take us on journeys, and journeys can be a story. Bring your children to come and travel with us for a day of collaborative story-writing. We will start you off with an idea, inviting you and your child to write the next section. Loosely shaped around a journey, Sheffield, and languages, we encourage you to weave other languages into the story, showing multilingual Sheffield in all its glory. With every visitor adding to it, we hope to create a walk-along, multilingual story trail, helped along by Dr Sabine Little, who will be on hand to talk about multilingual reading and multilingual families, and supported by Ian Hall-Smith, professional illustrator, who will be on hand to illustrate your work – or help you illustrate it yourself.

After the event, all story parts will be digitised and shared online as a virtual “walk-through” of the day. Part of Sheffield University’s Festival of Social Science. Just drop in.

Contact your library for details of further half-term activities taking place near you.

straight to audience productions presents

take me back
by angie le mar

saturday 3 – sunday 4 november

7.30pm

Take Me Back tells the story of two young girls, Patricia and Andrea, whose friendship was formed and forged whilst attending church with their mothers, but whose life experiences led them down different, separate and painful paths, only for them to return to the church and faith of their childhood.

Take Me Back pays homage to the music and worship styles of the Windrush Generation.

Tickets: £18.50, available from: Tel: 07956 346 173

Far Out Theatre presents

Robin Hood and the Babes in the Wood

Friday 7 – Saturday 8 December

7.30pm

Hot on the heels of last year's adult only panto, Far Out Theatre proudly present: Robin Hood and the Babes in the Wood. This classic pantomime has been given a new lease of life by the mad-cap Far Out gang at Sheffield's Library Theatre. This is a panto like no other and contains bad language, tasteless jokes and (very) rude antics aplenty. So come and meet Robin and Marion as they go on a psychedelic and kaleidoscopic adventure in the woods. Adults only, 18+ show. Tickets: £12.00
